Five Unity Care Group homes enter computer age

San Jose, Calif., (December 25th, 1999) San Jose, CA. - December 25th, 1999 - Education is a priority at the youth group homes run by the non-profit Unity Care Group. Wish Book donations helped buy computers for each of the five homes in San Jose. The computers will be especially helpful for homework assignments, but also will provide entertainment and a diversion for the kids at a time when they are not with their own families. They also received an unexpected surprise donated by the Tech Museum of Innovation: free museum passes to use year round.
